

SATURDAY, AUGUST 9, 1890.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

A splendid rain last Sunday.
For good values go to H. Schultz.
Wanted, at the Commercial house, a good girl. 21-4
The cool days of this week were duly appreciated.
N. H. Sawtelle has returned from his eastern trip.
N. C. Terrill, of Hill City, was in town Tuesday.
Goods delivered promptly from H. Schultz's store.
T. C. Rondiez, of Ness City, was here last Saturday.
E. W. Ober, a leading merchant of Salina, was in town Thursday.
When you spend your money at H. Schultz's you get the worth of it.
It is being whispered all around that another wedding is about ripe.
Good fresh produce always taken in exchange for goods at H. Schultz's.
Good honest goods is what the people want. You will find them at Schultz's.
Will Lawrence, we are pleased to note, is recovering from his severe illness.
E. S. Byington, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, was visiting friends here over Sunday.
E. M. Randolph, of Marceline, Ill., was doing business here the first of the week.
Hon. R. I. Bea, of Russell Springs, was in town Monday and Tuesday of this week.
Miss Edith Brown returned Wednesday from a short visit with her father in Ellis.
W. C. Olson went down the road Sunday evening accompanied by his best clothes. Politics we expect.
Monument was well represented here this week. A majority of her citizens were on a contest before the land office.
Len Schmitt, Jr., went to Ellis Thursday morning, where he will assist J. L. Brown in his clothing store for a short time.
We neglected last week to acknowledge a delightful serenade from a quartette of our young people. It was appreciated.
Messrs. M. Dargitz, George Dryer and George Birrer were down from Grainfield Monday, doing land office business.
Peter Huddleston, of Monument, was in town last Tuesday for the purpose of getting some pointers. He got 'em that night.
T. R. Moore was working extra in the land office this week. Two long, litigated contests at once was too much for Miss Harrison.
Wa-Keeney Lodge A. F. and A. M. had work in first degree at a special communication, Tuesday night. Next Monday night will be stated meeting.
Depositions were taken Tuesday before Judge Saum to be used in the case of E. M. Randolph vs. A. C. Frick. This case is the result of a real estate trade.
The board of county commissioners were in session last Monday and levied the necessary tax for the ensuing year. A report of their proceedings appears elsewhere.
Miss Ella Magraue contemplates making a short visit to Hays City, leaving this evening. This item was given us in confidence by Miss Magraue herself, so it can be relied on.
The young people had a nice little dance Tuesday night at the opera house. Although only about twenty-four hours notice was had, a good sized crowd was on hand and a tip-top time is reported.
We are authorized to announce that the Hon. William Baker, of Lincoln county, Alliance candidate for representative from the sixth congressional district, will speak in Wa-Keeney on Sept. 12th, 1890.
While at Keota, Iowa, a few days ago we met a Mr. Logan formerly of the firm of Shepard & Logan of this city. He desired us to remember him to all old friends here and assure them that he is well and doing well.
We came very near making an intimate acquaintance with one of the great men of the present age a few days ago. When we went to adorn the register of the Opel house at Colby with our fair name, the last above ours was that of Noble L. Prentice. We were also shown the door of his room as we went to bed. We were profoundly impressed.
Arthur Curme, the lightning court stenographer of this district, says that ever since he committed matrimony and began housekeeping he has thought there was some house-hold article he had neglected to provide. Finally, after weeks of anxious thought and many wakeful nights, he suddenly remembered that he had forgotten to subscribe for the World. He did so, and now happiness reigns supreme in that household.

Takes it Back.
It seems that we made a mistake a short time ago when we stated that Books county was going to have a big corn crop. We take it all back, and apologize. It will be some other year. The farmers have decided not to have any corn this year.—Rooks County Record.

Courthouse Courts Gallers.
One of the men who has weathered through all kinds of seasons in Wa-Keeney and who proposes to continue business—though not at the old stand, but in new and commodious quarters—is O. A. Cortright. He is now established in his new room in the National Bank block and invites all his old customers, as well as new ones, to come and see him. A full stock of everything usually kept in a first class book and stationery store will be found at bottom prices. It

Commendable Enterprise.
We were shown through the new room which C. W. F. Street is fitting up, next door to the one already occupied by him, this week. In order to make room for his large stock, he is compelled to spread out more and by cutting an arch through the dividing wall, the two rooms will be joined, thus giving Mr. Street one of the largest and most complete hardware stores to be found in the west. Particular attention has been paid to arranging the shelving, drawers and cases for the purposes for which they are intended and each class of goods will have a place especially designed for it. Enterprises of this kind deserves particular notice at this time when "blines" are so prevalent, and we gladly note this one.

Commissioners' Meeting.
WA-KEENEY, Kan., Aug. 8, 1890.
The board of county commissioners of Trego county met to-day pursuant to law to make the annual tax levy. All members of the board were present. After some discussion the board ordered that the sum of seven and one-half mills on the dollar be levied on all the taxable property of the county for the payment of county current expenses and the sum of one and one-half mills for the payment of interest on court house and jail bonds and to create a sinking fund. Bond funds were also ordered in those school districts having a bonded indebtedness, sufficient to pay interest and to create a sinking fund in each. Township levies were made in Collyer and Franklin townships as per request of township trustees. Board adjourned sine die.
Attest: C. A. Hoar, County Clerk.

Another Prominent Man Goes.
It is with great regret that we record the departure of any of our citizens, and when one who has for a long term of years been not only a good citizen and neighbor but an active, pushing factor in social, political and religious circles declares his intention to make his future home elsewhere, a genuine feeling of sadness pervades the entire community. Any one who, twelve months ago, would have ventured the prediction that at this time Dr. F. H. Conger would be preparing to leave us, would have been hooted at. Yet such is the case, and after this week he, too, will be among the "formerly-of-Kansas" men. The regret over his departure, however, is not alone upon our part, as the Doctor assures us that no man ever left any community with more reluctance and nothing but a hope of bettering his condition in a broader field for his professional labors has induced him to make the change.
Dr. Conger has been here since 1878, and no man in Trego county has been more closely identified with its development and interests than he. Fearless and outspoken in all public matters, an earnest laborer in church and charitable work and a pleasant and sociable companion are the characteristics that have marked him and will ever distinguish him wherever he may go. His new location will be Kansas City, Mo. May success be his.

Ball Game.
The promised return game of ball between the Ellis and Wa-Keeney "kid nines" was played on the home grounds last Wednesday and furnished an excellent opportunity for our people to exercise their lungs. They embraced the opportunity. The Ellis boys went to bat first and succeeded in finding Chet Gleason's balls for three runs before they were retired. The Wa-Keeney applause committee now prepared to do the proper thing by our home boys as they braced up to the plate but the "down shoots" of the Yokohama were too much for them and A. Sellars, C. Gleason and C. Sellars fanned out, leaving Frick and Gibson on base and the applause committee still loaded. The second inning was worse than the first, the Ellis boys securing five tallies with ease and then generously allowed our team to make one, leaving the score at the close of this inning eight to one in favor of Ellis. But right here trouble began. Wa-Keeney put Gibson in the box and L. Gleason was sent to first. Nine streaks of hot air went past Bell, Miller and Snyder and each hit at three of them when the umpire sent them out in the field for fear they might get hurt. This dose was repeated for the succeeding three innings while the home team crossed the plate sixteen times. In the seventh Ellis secured three more on Wa-Keeney's bad playing, while the home team got two more runs. In the eighth Ellis made one and in the ninth four, but it was not enough and the home boys took the plum without the last half. The score by innings was as follows:
Ellis.....2 5 0 0 0 8 1 4—18.
Wa-Keeney.....0 1 3 6 0 2 0—18.

Mr. John Carpenter, of Goodland, Ind., says: 'I tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, for diarrhoea and severe cramps, and pains in the stomach and bowels with the best results. In the worst cases I never had to give more than the third dose to effect a cure. In most cases one dose will do. Besides its other good qualities it is pleasant to take.' 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by H. J. Hill.

During the epidemic of flux in this county last summer, I had hard work to keep a supply of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy on hand. People often came ten or twelve miles in the night to get a bottle of the Remedy. I have been selling patent medicines for the last ten years and find that it has given better satisfaction in cases of diarrhoea and flux, than any other medicine I have ever handled.—J. H. BISHAM, Druggist, Goodland, Mo., Ill. Over five hundred bottles of this Remedy were sold in that county during the epidemic referred to. It was a perfect success and was the only remedy that did cure the worst cases. Dozens of persons there will certify that it saved their lives. In four other epidemics of bowel complaint this Remedy has been equally successful. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by H. J. Hill.

THE WALLACE MURDER.
Full Particulars—An Unprovoked, Cold Blooded Killing.
WALLACE, Kan., August 4.—Geo. D. Page, who was shot and killed Friday night, came into this city from his farm, three miles southeast of here, to attend a meeting of the I. O. O. F., of which he was a member. He hitched his team to a rack in front of Griggs' store, near his father's house. Having left his wife at his mother's house he attended lodge. When out, in company with his wife, he started to return home, and when he got to his wagon he found that the harness had been cut and the horses gone. He returned to his father's house and left his wife there, and in company with his father, started to find his horses. They separated, his father going to his office, while he went to the residence of J. K. Grover. He stepped on the porch and called Mr. Grover, who got up and opened the door, when he was told what had happened, and he asked for a gun, saying that the one who had cut his harness would shoot him if he went looking after him. Before Grover could get the screen door open he heard a voice near the restaurant call out, "hold up there" which was soon followed by a shot. Page stepped into the room, took two or three steps and said, "I am shot and dying; what will my wife do? Send for my father." He sank unconscious to the floor, dying in a few minutes.
James Barrows came from Ashley, Mo., last spring, and acknowledges the shooting, but gives no cause for the act.
George Page, who was killed, was twenty-one years old and was married last April. He came here about four years ago with his father from Danville, Ill., and has always borne a good reputation. He was engaged in farming and stock raising. His death has caused a gloom and sadness over the entire community.—Capital.

HOW OFTEN, OH HOW OFTEN;
Or, the Glencoe Granger's Grief.
How often, Oh, how often
Have I chanced the coyotes over the hill,
In their mouths they carried my chickens,
Regretting to pay their bill.
How often, Oh, how often
Have I wished that our County Clerk
Was using their caudle for fuel,
And done was the coyotes' work.
When I think of the many hundred
Of poultry-raising men,
Who have been lured up by coyotes
Again, and yet again,
My heart gets hot and restless,
Our life is so full of care,
But the loss of my favorite rooster
Seemed greater than I could bear.
How often, Oh, how often,
In the days that have gone by,
Have I dreamed of my friends feasting
Upon my chicken pie.
But now they have vanished from me—
Been taken by Mr. C—
And only the chickens of others
Can furnish pie for me.

She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time; she weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle, it helped her, she bought a large bottle, it helped her more, bought another and grew better fast, continued its use, and is now strong, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing 140 pounds.
